

Association between observed thinking-token count and estimated system energy

